Mass Technology Leadership Council Awards Recognize Outstanding Technology Development, Implementation and Leadership

Hampden, MA – July 4, 2006 – Rediker Software, Inc. announced that it has been named as a finalist for the Mass Technology Leadership Council's 2006 Mass Technology Leadership Awards. Rediker and other finalists were named at an event held at the British Consulate on June 28.

The only awards program to recognize outstanding achievement in both the development and implementation of information technology, the Mass Technology Leadership Awards honor Massachusetts companies and individuals who best exemplify leadership and excellence in business and technology. The awards program builds on the traditions of the Massachusetts Software Council and the New England Business and Technology Association (NEBATA), the two organizations that merged last year to form the Massachusetts Technology Leadership Council.

Rediker Software is one of the world's leading providers of school administrative software. Located in beautiful Hampden, Massachusetts, Rediker develops and markets student information system solutions to public and private schools in all 50 states and 92 countries. Founder and President Richard Rediker, an educator and entrepreneur, is still at the helm. Rediker's flagship program, Administrator's Plus, combines 28 years of experience and features. Their integrated School Office Suite family of programs helps manage every area of school life.

"Rediker Software was nominated for helping create, overnight, a "Transition School" for 1800 students displaced by Hurricane Katrina in New Orleans," said Rediker spokesman, Bill Keyes. "It was an extraordinary effort here in Hampden, utilizing not only the best scheduling software in the world, but the best Technical Support team in the universe!"

"The Mass Technology Leadership Council is committed to fostering entrepreneurship and promoting the success of companies that develop and deploy technology across industry sectors. These awards are an important part of this effort," said Joyce Plotkin, president of the Mass Technology Leadership Council. "The finalists for this year's honors represent the spirit of innovation, the history of accomplishment and the future promise that define the Massachusetts technology community."

Winners of the awards will be announced on October 11, at an Awards Banquet to be held at the Boston Marriott Copley Place Hotel on Wednesday, October 11. The Banquet will also feature a keynote address by Bruce Chizen, CEO of Adobe.
